

Crossroads / Eleggua – Looking for change in your life, in a place of knowing you need to make change, not sure which way to go, feeling blocked from creating what you desire, finding you have lots of options/directions to go in and not knowing which one to pick

Best when lit on Sunday and Tuesday

Earth Mother – Not feeling connected to the earth, not feeling like you have a solid foundation, feel like you're in survival mode instead of thriving, feel like life is hard, desiring support, feel like you're stuck in a rut

Best when lit on Monday, Tuesday and Friday

Green Man – In your head and stressed out, stuck in limbo, finding yourself looking at the world and asking why, not able to see the beauty in front of you, needing artistic inspiration

Best when lit on Sunday, Tuesday and Friday

Guardian Angel – Desiring to feel your angels around you, desiring to feel safe and secure knowing that you're being watched over by the angels, desiring to learn who your angels that are watching over you, desiring to have others' angels watch over them during their time of need, call on your angels for whatever reason

Best everyday of the week

Peaceful Home – Your house is in chaos, family or friend dynamics are making it uncomfortable to be happy in your home environment, bringing new relationships or animals into your home and desire everyone to get along well and feel comfortable and loved, you desiring to buy your new home, you are selling your home

Best when lit on Sunday, Tuesday and Friday

Candles available online at Earthcreatesart.com

And sold exclusively at

Sapphire Center

4844 SE Hwy 101

Lincoln City, Oregon 97367

503.962.9251

Candle Magic

Whether you desire to bring into your life positive experiences (success, money, love, happiness), or let go of old habits (unhealthy relationships, unworthiness, negative thinking), that keep you stuck, use these candles to help you create the positive changes you desire in your environment and your personal space.

How to use Candle Magic:

Write your name or the person you are desiring to help receive the intentions you desire, 3 times on the back of the candle, (magic marker works wonderful) then draw an arrow down to the bottom of the candle. On a piece of paper write your desire/intention for yourself or another (be it to receive good things into your life or release negative habits/beliefs). Finish by writing Thank You 3 times underneath the desire/intention and then place the paper under candle.

Light your candle and give your wish, desire, intentions over to the stars, the universe, a higher power, some may call it God. Let the candle burn continuously until it goes out, which takes about 5 to 8 days.

Please make sure to keep out of reach from children, animals and any fabric or other items that are flammable. If you desire to put your candle out when you are not around, which is a good thing to do. Please do not blow them out as it changes the energy when relighting. It is best to snuff out the candle with a candle snuffer or object that is safe to use. This way the energy of your intention is still flowing until you can relight when you are with your candle.

Goddess of Abundance – Abundance of all positive and great things in your life, creating new ideas, finances, work, relationships, love, health
Best when lit on Thursdays

Goddess of Compassion – Compassion for yourself as you are going through trying times, compassion for others as they are being challenged by life issues
Best everyday of the week

Goddess of Destruction – Letting go of old beliefs, letting go of habits that no longer serve you, releasing negative people from your personal space, like the tower card in tarot – when we destroy that which is holding us back, we may rebuild something much better from the ashes
Best when lit on Saturday

Goddess of Good Luck – This one speaks for it's self, we all desire good luck, use for every area of your life
Best when lit on Tuesday and Friday

Goddess of Happiness – We spend time so much time looking for happiness, these ladies show you how simple it is to find the happiness that has always been with you
Best when lit on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Friday

Goddess of Health – Desiring great health, getting over a bug, working on your weight, even helping with others and asking for their highest good with their illness
Best when lit on Sunday and Thursday

Goddess of Humor – Finding the humor in our situations, especially when we feel we have been humiliated. It is for us to be able to be humbled and in gratitude instead of feeling humiliated
Best everyday of the week

Goddess of Justice – Where are you out of balance, overworked, one sided relationship, giving to everyone and not receiving in return, and yes, for court cases and disputes – legal issues
Best when lit on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday

Goddess of Love – Desiring to call in a loving relationship, rekindling the relationship you are in, learning to love yourself
Best when lit on Friday

Goddess of Patience – Now we all can use this one, we want it now, patience is a virtue, this candle reminds us to be in gratitude as we wait patiently for what we desire
Best when lit on Sunday, Wednesday and Saturday

Goddess of Power – How often do we give our power to others, let others make us feel small – less then, this candle lets us remember to stand up for ourselves and hold strong to our belief system and light
Best when lit on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday

Goddess of Protection – Feeling others negative stuff, people at work being negative, dealing with family or relationships that are draining your energy
Best when lit on Sunday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday

Goddess of Relationship – Having relationship issues, not able to communicate well with others in regards to your feelings, wishing you had friends to do things with, desiring healthy relationships
Best when lit on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday

Goddess of Sea – Sea is about our emotions, the ups and the downs, like the crashing of the waves, when are emotions override our sense of well-being, this candle helps to calm the emotional turmoil that we go through with every day life issues and then the added stresses of the unexpected that takes us off balance
Best when lit on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday

Goddess of Spirit – Desiring to ask for help from the universe/spirit, feeling lost/alone, feeling far away from your path, wondering what your propose is, desiring to work with the unseen world and feel comfortable and safe as you do
Best when lit on Sunday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday

Goddess of Success – Desiring to bring success into your life through your business ventures, through your work, in your personal life, successful positive changes you would like to make in every aspect of your life, opening up new positive creativity, successfully removing blocks that are holding you back, success at being abundant in your life
Best when lit on Tuesday and Thursday

Goddess of Victory – Victory is about all the small successes that we have, it's about adding up the little victories in every aspect of our life, counting every victory in a wonderful way with much gratitude in our hearts, remembering it's all the small victories that add up to the total sum of something more magnificent
Best when lit on Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday